JOCO CRUISE 2020

Let's boogie.

2020 HIGHLIGHTS

Returning Monkey or New, this stuff's for you:

JOCOBOT 3000

In the Atrium on Deck 1 you'll find what will, in the fullness of time, likely become the hopefully-benevolent overlord of us all: an AI chatbot endowed with Jonathan's voice, connected to peripherals, and embodied by LEGO Jonathan. Probably best to get on its good side; you're welcome to interact with it any time during the sailing.

Name Your Game

Tabletop

Table-er and Top-er than ever! Our Cardboard Concierge team is ready to help complete n00bs and veteran players alike find games they'll love. Or you can just browse the massive JoCo Cruise library.

Console Gaming

We've partnered once again with World 9 Gaming to bring you a wide variety of consoles, up in the Crow's Nest (a.k.a. "10 Forward," which this year is inconveniently located on Deck 11). Operational hours and events are in the schedule.

Classic Arcade Games

Free to play in Billboard Onboard (Deck 2, Forward). Share and share alike; no game hogs, please! Also, clean your hands before and after playing.

24-Hour Pizza Service

Per overwhelming demand, the New York Pizza station near the Sea View Pool (Deck 9) will be open all day and all night! Hooray for on-demand late-night pizza of passable quality!

Greenhouse Gas Neutrality

As part of our Carbon Roadmap initiative to help achieve negative worldwide emissions by 2030, rest easy knowing we've already made contributions to sequester CO₂, and prevent N₂O from entering the atmosphere in the first place. We've also worked with Holland America to reduce and reuse to the greatest extent possible during our sailing.

All-Gender Restrooms

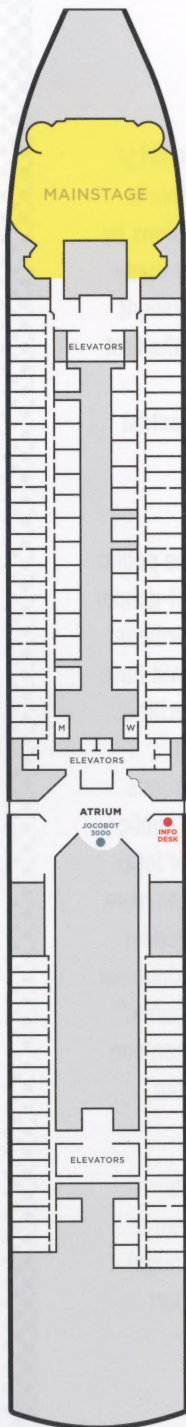

This year, we've designated many of the public restrooms on board as "all-gender." All-gender restrooms are open to all persons regardless of gender identity or expression; they will have door signage indicating the types of facilities available inside (urinals and/or toilets).

The map on page 4 outlines the locations of the all-gender and gender-specific public restrooms on the Nieuw Amsterdam for JoCo Cruise 2020. All restroom doors will also have a map indicating all other nearby all-gender and gender-specific restrooms. We've done our best to make it so that, on the main "public" decks (1-3, 9-11), you're never more than one deck and/or half the ship away from your desired type of restroom.

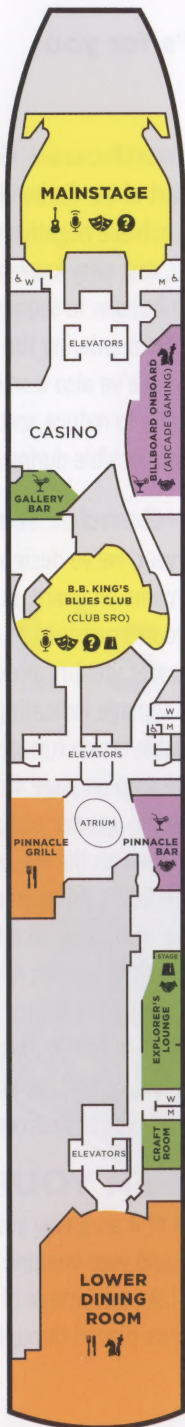

WASH YOUR HANDS

Think of it as giving your immune system a hug (and your immune system LOVES hugs). Also take advantage of the hand sanitizer stations placed throughout the ship.

JOCO CRUISE CODE OF CONDUCT

JoCo Cruise wants everyone to foster a healthy, kind, and respectful community in which all individuals will feel safe and welcome. We created the policies below to help us all make it so.

Be excellent to each other.

Treat your fellow Sea Monkeys with kindness and respect. This is an enthusiastic and supportive community, and it is all of our responsibility to maintain it. Invite people into your conversations and activities; be supportive when your fellow Sea Monkeys try new things (or choose not to); participate, connect, help out. Events like these can feel lonely and intimidating when you're new and don't know anybody. Be welcoming, inclusive and friendly, and look out for one another!

Don't harass others.

We are not a community that tolerates harassment. This includes (but isn't limited to): any kind of physical, verbal, or psychological abuse; threats, intimidation, and bullying; slurs about race, gender, sexuality or ability; unwanted romantic attention, sexual harassment, and generally creepy or stalky behavior; and photographing anyone or engaging in physical interactions (hugging, tickling, backrubs, etc.) without consent. If someone asks you to stop doing something and you keep doing it, that's harassment. We're all responsible for making sure this doesn't occur in our community.

Be excellent to the ship's staff and anyone you encounter at a port of call.

Remember that we share this community with others. Please don't be the person who makes the Sea Monkeys look bad to the HAL staff and/or the locals.

Don't steal things.

Obviously.

Don't use illegal substances or bring them onboard.

No exceptions.

We're here to help.

Don't hesitate to reach out and ask for help addressing an issue. If the matter is related to the ship and its operations, or the health or physical well-being of passengers and/or crew, we must defer to the Nieuw Amsterdam management. The ship's management, the officers, and crew are all ultimately responsible for the safety and well-being of every person on board. We and they are all doing our best to ensure you enjoy your experience and that the values of our community are upheld.

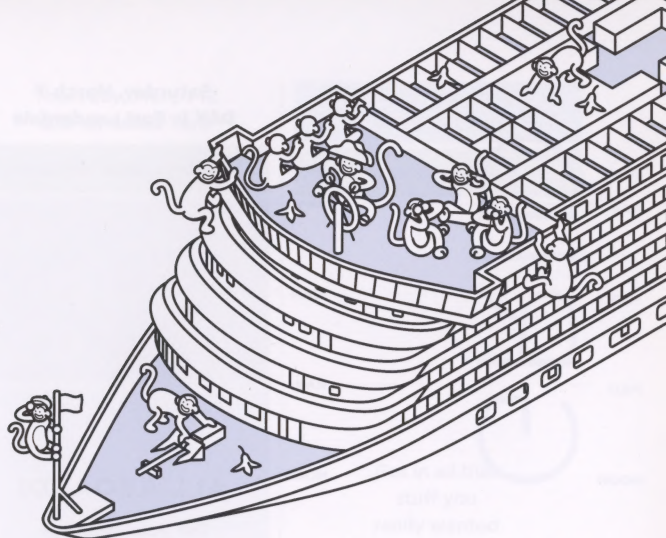

Our experience and expectation is that JoCo Cruisers act responsibly and look after one another. But in the event of a breach of this Code of Conduct, we reserve the right to take action, including (but not limited to) limiting access to events, expulsion without refund, and/or permanent banning from JoCo Cruise events.

During the cruise, if you are subject to or witness behavior that violates our Code of Conduct, contact any Helper Monkey or JoCo Cruise staff member. You can also dial 74501 from any ship's phone. Off-ship you can email conduct@jococruise.com.

“HOW DOES ONE JOCO CRUISE?”

The short answer is that there are no wrong answers, because JoCo Cruise is not a bogus multi-choice quiz put together by Professor Terrible; it's an open-architecture, living SuperThesis powered by your inclinations and whims, and graded by YOU and you alone (if you even BOTHER grading!)

That said, it can feel overwhelming to be dropped into the middle of this marvel without any guidance, especially for first-timers (hello, New Monkey!) But don't sweat it. The hard part was getting here . . . and here you are.

So for those who really dig Cliff's Notes, or just like to read things in general, here's the broad outline of how your week might look.

DAY 1 — SETTLE IN AND RAMP UP

Look at the week ahead!

- Check out the detailed schedule you received in the terminal to see what's on for the first day, and check out the general grid on the next page.
- A daily newsletter with the schedule for the following day will be delivered to your stateroom each day.
- All scheduled JoCo Cruise events take place on Ship Time—that is, the time set on the ship's clocks. Ship Time generally matches the local time of the ports of call; this can sometimes get tricky when the cruise passes through different time zones. Here's how Ship Time works this year:
 - At 2am on Sun., March 8 (Day 2 of the cruise—or, if you're a night owl, very very late the night of Day 1), Ship Time will move forward to 3am, because Daylight Saving Time begins.
 - THAT'S IT!

Explore the ship!

- Check out the deck maps on pages 3 and 4.
- Basic shipboard terminology:
 - BOW or FORWARD/FORE: front of ship
 - AFT: back of ship
 - STARBOARD side: right side of ship when facing the bow
 - PORT side: left side of the ship when facing the bow
 - TENDER: small vessel used to transport people from the ship to shore (think “shuttlecraft”)
 - WASH YOUR HANDS: something you should do frequently, for herd immunity of sorts
 - BUFFET: a series of purpose-built tables and shelves where a variety of foodstuffs are laid out, by way of providing a self-service meal
- If your cabin isn’t quite ready yet, it’s a great opportunity to scoot around and become familiar with the ship. It’s also an ideal time to book shore excursions, spa treatments etc., if you haven’t already.

Meet and/or reconnect with your fellow Sea Monkeys!

- On your badge, be sure to jot down an “Ask Me About” topic, and look at other people’s badges for theirs. Instant ice breaker!
- You’ll also see Your Pronoun stickers on many badges. If you didn’t get stickers in the terminal, the Info Desk (Deck 1, Atrium) will have extras if you’d like to add one to your badge.
- We’ve also teamed with Friendshipping to provide buttons for you to indicate your social mood. Wear them as it suits you, and take cues from the Friendshipping buttons others might be wearing.

If it’s your first JoCo Cruise, we’ve planned some on-ramps

- ORIENTATION - 3pm in the Mainstage theater. We’ll give a brief-ish overview of the week and general logistics, and answer any and all questions you may have. Show up when you wish/are able to, and leave at any time.
- ATTEND A NEW MONKEY EVENT, which are selected for their ability to ease you into the fun. (These are noted and searchable in the online schedule.)
- NEW MONKEY AMBASSADORS will be around the ship to answer questions and help with ideas on where to start. They’ll be wearing pink sashes, you can’t miss ‘em.

- Join in the easy way! A Friendly Fez sign means “You’re welcome to join us!” Grab one from the Game Library or throughout the ship to invite people to join you at your game or dining table.

Feed yourself!

- The moment you set foot on the ship you can find an astounding assortment of goodies on Deck 9 at the Lido Buffet, or Dive-In grill counter near the mid-ship Lido Pool, or at the New York Pizza counter by the Sea View Pool. All of which are great places to meet and meet up with your fellow Sea Monkeys. Veg/Vegan and restricted diet options are available.

Enjoy the first concert and dinner! (Red Team/Gold Team)

As we've noted previously, most nights of the cruise will feature a Main Concert event featuring our performers and guests. Because the ship's Main Stage theater only fits half the ship's guests, we present these concerts as an Early Show and a Late Show. As such, everyone has been assigned to either the Red Team or the Gold Team.

If you're with the Red Team, you go to the early dinner seating (5:30pm on Day 1) in the Main Dining Room and then the Late Show (8pm on Day 1); if you're on the Gold Team, you go to the Early Show and then the late dinner seating.

You are, of course, under no obligation to either attend the show, nor to eat dinner in the Main Dining Room; there's plenty of other food options available and things to do with your time. You're your own boat boss!

For dinner, unless you notified Holland America about special dietary needs ahead of time, it's open seating. Sit anywhere you like on either floor (anywhere that's not reserved for fixed seating, staff or 24/7 gaming). Find new friends, meet up with old friends, collect 'em all.

Those who signed up for CLUB SRO are invited to watch either show (or both!) in B.B. King's Lounge. Club SRO members may also watch the show live in the Mainstage theater, if there are seats available 5 minutes after the show starts.

PLANT-BASED EATING

If you're all about plants at mealtime, we've worked with the Nieuw Amsterdam to get you covered . . .

- Nightly vegetarian and vegan meal options in the Main Dining Room
- Added vegetarian and vegan options in the Lido Market, including a station dedicated to plant-based options
- Plant-based options at the Dive-In grill (including Beyond Burgers and Sausages!)

AFTER EMBARK, WHAT DOES A “TYPICAL” DAY LOOK LIKE?

Typical-schmypical! JoCo Cruise is set up to allow people to explore and pursue what interests them, and nothing is mandatory.* That said, there is a general flow to each day, which varies depending on if it's a sea day or port day.

except for disembarking on the last day, but that's, like, a million days away.*

Good Morning!

(or possibly Good Afternoon-Morning!) Wake up, do your morning thang, enjoy a hot shower, etc. Have breakfast in your cabin (because you filled out a room service form the night before) or seek it on the Lido deck or Main Dining Room.

Look over the day's schedule

(which was delivered to your stateroom the night before) and think about what appeals to you the most.

Seek and pursue those things!

No need to bring along a schedule: we place fresh daily schedules throughout the ship, outside all the main venues.

Here are all the ways to keep on top of the daily doings:

- DAILY NEWSLETTER – DELIVERED TO YOUR STATEROOM EVERY EVENING. Includes updated schedule and key information about the next day.
- DAILY SCHEDULES – POSTED THROUGHOUT THE SHIP. Complete daily schedules are posted in the elevator lobbies on Decks 2, 3 and 9; individual venue daily schedules are posted outside that venue.
- ONLINE SCHEDULE – JOCOCRUISE2020.SCHED.COM. HAL has “whitelisted” our schedule page, meaning you don't need to purchase an Internet plan to access it. That said, Internet access onboard can sometimes be a little dicey, so we suggest you have backup options in mind (any of these other bullet points) for getting schedule info, if necessary.
- JOCO CRUISE INFO DESK, ATRIUM, DECK 1 MIDSHIP. Daily staffing hours will be posted at the desk and in our daily newsletter. You can also request a printed copy of the online schedule at the Info Desk, if you need one.
- HELPER MONKEYS. The JoCo Cruise “Helper Monkey” genus comes in two different species: Proctors, who work specific events/shifts (in pink vests); and New Monkey Ambassadors (wearing pink sashes), who are more generalized wandering “help stations” (particularly for newbies). All Helper Monkeys can help find answers to JoCo Cruise questions. You can also turn to them about a Code of Conduct violation or if you need to report a harassment incident. For general Nieuw Amsterdam or Holland America-related questions (shore excursions, room account charges, etc.), please consult the ship's materials or visit the ship's Front Desk (Deck 1, Midship).
- SELF-ORGANIZE. Easel pads are available in the Explorer's Lounge (deck 3, aft) for “analog” plan coordination and announcements. There are also “Looking for Players” boards by the Game Library specifically for organizing gaming events.
- MORNING ANNOUNCEMENTS / PUBLIC ADDRESS SYSTEM. For major reminders and announcements throughout the week, Principal Sabourin and others will notify you directly, via the ship's P.A.

Dinner/Show

Day 1

- Red Team:

5:30pm dinner, 8pm Main Concert

- Gold Team:

5:30pm Main Concert, 8pm dinner

Days 2-3, 6-7

- Red Team:

5pm dinner, 7:30pm Main Concert

- Gold Team:

5pm Main Concert, 7:30pm dinner

Day 4 (Santo Domingo)

- The Main Dining Room is "Open Dining"—try to get there in the neighborhood of your usual seating if possible (so the whole ship doesn't all show up at once), but you can arrive anytime between 5pm and 9pm.

Day 5

- No Main Concert, but Red/Gold Team dining times remain the same.
- The Main Dining Room is "Open Dining," but please try to get there in the neighborhood of your usual seating if possible (so the whole ship doesn't all show up at once), but you can arrive anytime between 5pm and 9pm.
- NOTE: Fixed Seating table assignments/times will still apply on all days.

As noted, all Main Dining Room dinners are "open seating"—unless you've requested Fixed Seating, you can sit at any table not otherwise reserved for fixed seating, staff or 24/7 gaming.

Into the night...

- The Billboard Onboard bar and lounge area (on Deck 2 next to the casino) will be set up as a late night social space. Comfy? Snacks (Later Taters)? Beverages? Arcade gaming? YES TO ALL!
- All over the place: more official events, shadow events, dance parties and hangouts happen well into the wee hours.
- Going to bed early can be pretty great, too!

IF IT'S A PORT DAY:

- If you've signed up for a Holland America shore excursion, you'll get instructions about when and where to meet up and what (if anything) you need to bring with you. If not, you can disembark at your leisure for self-guided adventure. (Just get back to the ship in time!) Or you can stay on the ship and enjoy everything it has to offer.
- NOTE: Half Moon Cay requires taking a "tender" boat to reach the island; you'll receive instructions on how that works later in the week. But you'll be able to walk directly off the ship in Santo Domingo and Grand Turk.

REMEMBER THE SELF-CARE RULE:
5-3-1

Get 5 hours of sleep
per night, minimum

Eat 3 meals each day

Take 1 shower/bath each day

THE THINGS YOU MIGHT DO!

Official Events

- Shows, presentations, panels, Q&As and more, featuring our performers and guests.
- Office Hours: small informal gatherings and hangouts with various performers and guests. Setting will vary, from meeting rooms to bars to the pool to hot tubs. Check the schedule for different options.

Tabletop Gaming

- The Game Library has been refreshed by Jenn Ellis (of Twogether Studios), and features over 2,000 pounds (a literal ton!) of games. PLUS games loaned for the week by your fellow Sea Monkeys.
- You'll find more about tabletop gaming and the Game Library later in this guide.

Crafting

- New crafting programming in the Craft Room (Deck 2 Aft, near the shops) organized by Fiona's Fineries, plus meetups and events in other parts of the ship. (And/or you can do standalone crafting pretty much anywhere!)

Console Gaming

- Back by popular demand, more than 40 console stations are set up for you to play, from NES to some of the latest, in the EXC area (Deck 11, Forward), brought to you by World 9 Gaming.

Arcade Games

- Also popular and demanded, we've set up an entire 1980s mall's worth of classic arcade machines in the Billboard Onboard lounge (Deck 2, Forward). Free to play! Are you ready to steal the Galaga high scores from JWC and POO?

The Shadow Cruise

- One of our favorite parts of JoCo Cruise is how Sea Monkeys self-organize and create events of every sort. This process evolved at the dawn of JoCo Cruise, and every year we offer spaces across the ship for these events. And this year the Shadow Cruise features over 270 TOTAL EVENT HOURS (!). That's a lotta Shadow!

Lounging and General Ship Amenities

- Chill times at the Lido Pool (Deck 9, Midship) and Sea View Pool (Deck 9, Aft) and other areas.
- Relax like a boss at the Spa (Deck 9, Forward), shop like a boss at the Shops (Deck 3, Midship), or be the boss of looking at photos at the Photo Gallery.
- Roll them bones, hit on a soft 17, spin the hot marble, and laugh in the face of math and probability in the ship's Casino (Deck 2, Forward).
- Gym? Sure. You could do that. (Deck 9, Forward)

Daily Quiet Zones

- 8am - 3pm: Crow's Nest Bar (Deck 11, Forward)
- 9pm - late: Lido Marketplace - Starboard Side (Deck 9, Midship)

The above Quiet Zones are where people can find respite from the bustle of the busier and noisier locations. We encourage quiet activities (reading, puzzles, etc.), but ask that there be no gaming in designated Quiet Areas. Think "library" sound levels. Anyone engaging in noisy/disturbing activity will be asked (politely and quietly) to relocate.

SANTO DOMINGO LAND CONCERT

This year our big Land Concert will be held on Tues., March 10, in Santo Domingo, Dominican Republic, in the Plaza de España. Just a brief walk from the cruise terminal, it's large enough for everyone to hang out in historic fashion. See the Schedule for the full list of performers. The Official Group Photo will also be taken just before the concert.

- Your JoCo Cruise 2020 badge and lanyard will serve as your access pass into the concert area. Please be sure to bring them.
- Transportation to and from the venue will be available for those with mobility issues.
- This will be a "stand-up" music festival, but there will be some seating available. There will also be a section reserved for accessible seating.
- We've arranged to have food trucks with local cuisine available for purchase on-site, and there are also restaurants right on the Plaza where you could enjoy a meal before the concert begins. Bars will also be set up in the Plaza so you won't need to choose between seeing the concert and enjoying a tasty beverage. Food and beverages will be sold via tickets, which will be available for purchase on site via cash or credit.
- Most Santo Domingo restaurants, bars and stores accept $US cash, but change will likely be given in Dominican pesos.
- IN THE EVENT OF INCLEMENT WEATHER, we will notify all passengers as to any schedule and/or location changes for the Land Concert via our newsletter and/or shipboard announcements. (And YES, we have a rain contingency for 2020, heh heh "crying emoji")

TABLETOP GAMING AND THE GAME LIBRARY

LET'S PLAY!

- Gaming events are included in the schedule posted in the daily newsletter, as well as throughout the ship.
- Check out a game in the 24/7 game library and ask one of our Cardboard Concierge team members for games that fit your taste.

ABOUT THE GAME LIBRARY

The JoCo Cruise Tabletop Game Library is in the Upper Main Dining Room (Deck 3 Aft), just to the left as you enter (starboard side). It's available 24/7, and includes games donated to JoCo Cruise by Our Generous Sponsors as well as those on loan from your fellow Sea Monkeys. (May Poseidon protect them and further their good works. Amen.)

The game shelves are color-coded based on game play length; there are recommended game lists to suit your mood; and experts (the Cardboard Concierge team) can make personal recommendations no matter what your skill or experience level is. Their office hours are posted in the Game Library.

FINDING PLAYERS AND JOINING GAMES

Do you like the comfort and order of a day or afternoon well-planned? Scheduled Gaming events are listed in the daily newsletter and posted schedules. You can also check out the "Looking For Players" board at the Game Library, which has notices from fellow passengers running RPG's or tabletop game gatherings. All Sea Monkeys are welcome to post "Looking for Players" notices in the game library and we recommend doing so even if you posted something elsewhere.

The Sea Monkey community is an honorable one that takes great care of these cardboard jewels. Any game leaving the designated Game Library area must be checked out using our easy library checkout system. This lets everyone know where games are, and when they're due back. Specific check-in/check-out instructions are posted at the Game Library.

Oh, you're one of those devil-may-care folks looking for players right now. Check the schedule and see what game events are happening right now, or look for Friendly Fez signs at game tables to find folks looking for players. Observe what they're playing and if you're interested in joining, utter the secret phrase: "I see your Friendly Fez; are you still looking for players?" For late-night game happenings, we recommend stopping by the Billboard Onboard lounge to find folks playing social/party games, or Deck 3 of the Main Dining Room.

For the love of Manwë, if you are telling your friends or a group to meet you for a game in the Main Dining Room on Deck 3, mark on the whiteboard map at the entrance where your friends can find you.

WHERE TO PLAY GAMES

Once you check out a game you can play it anywhere on board. That said, some places are better than others. Check the detailed board inside of the Game Library of recommended spaces to play based on time of day that the Cardboard Concierge team maintains daily. Here are some spaces you should know about:

Designated 24/7 Gaming Tables

A section of the upper Main Dining Room on Deck 3 has tables (designated via table tent) for gaming at any hour of the day or night—even during dinner service!

Main Dining Room on Deck 3

Open almost all the time for gaming. It's closed off at 3:30 p.m. daily for actual dinner prep and actual eating, and re-opens after dinner service has been cleared. This space is so vast that we implore you to note on the whiteboard map where your event is located, so your friends can find you.

Billboard Onboard Lounge

This is the happening place for evening party games, featuring comfy chairs and close proximity to beverages. It's the best floating game bar in town. Well, except for the Lido.

Ocean Bar

Lots of useful tables and chairs; plus there's a handy bar right there for refreshments. Whenever there's not scheduled events taking place there, it's a great locale for gaming.

Lido

It's regular gaming, but in comfortable chairs steps away from an endless buffet. Need we say more?

NOTE: after 9pm, the port side of the Lido is a designated Quiet Zone; silent gaming only on this side in the late evenings, please.

NOTE: if there is an Official Event or a Shadow Cruise event scheduled in any given space, that event has precedence for seating/table space. Check the "Where to Play" board in the Game Library, which is updated daily. Thanks for cooperating!

JOCO CRUISE AND ACCESSIBILITY

JoCo Cruise works to ensure that all aspects of our event are fully accessible by all attendees. Holland America Line's facilities are designed to accommodate people with mobility, hearing, and visual disabilities. You can visit HAL's website for complete information regarding their various accessibility and special needs options, including info on accessible staterooms.

During JoCo Cruise, if anyone encounters any issues regarding accessibility, we will work with HAL to resolve the issue as quickly as possible.

SMOKING POLICY

- Smoking of tobacco products (cigarettes, cigars and pipes), e-cigarettes and vaping are permitted in the Sea View Bar area (Deck 9, aft)—starboard side only.
 - Smoking of tobacco products is not permitted on any stateroom verandah, inside any staterooms, or in any other public areas.
 - E-cigarettes and vaping are not permitted on any stateroom verandah, but are permitted inside staterooms.

GOTTA CATCH IT ALL: PHOTO AND VIDEO POLICY

JoCo Cruise imposes no restrictions on where and when its cruisers may capture light photons and audio waves, and generally encourages you to do so, as well as share those images and recordings with others (including over social media). JoCo Cruise operates under a Creative Commons Attribution-NonCommercial-Sharealike license.

That said, five things:

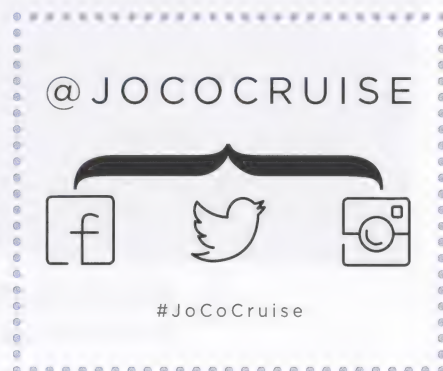

- At times, Holland America's photo and video policies may be different from that of JoCo Cruise. If there's a conflict, we must and will defer to the Nieuw Amsterdam's policy.
- Please be mindful and respectful of others when recording, and respect the JoCo Cruise Code of Conduct at all times. Please don't block someone else's view with your gear or self; and ask permission before photographing or recording someone. Not everyone may wish to be photographed/filmed.
- Some performers may request their performances not be recorded, or indicate that they may be recorded but not publicly reposted. In such cases we ask that everyone respect those requests. We'll do our best to get word out in advance regarding performers' preferences.
- In addition to the ship's photographers, you'll likely encounter the ShutterMonkeys taking pictures throughout the week. Their primary mission is to document the cruise for the public, and for JoCo Cruise's general documentary and promotional purposes, but if for any reason you don't want to be photographed by them, it's cool—just let them know.
- We also will have a crew aboard to make a video about JoCo Cruise. Same deal as with the ShutterMonkeys—if for any reason you don't want to be filmed by them, it's cool—just let them know.

GOT IT? SHARE IT!

Whether on the ship or on land, we encourage you to use social media to show the world how much fun you're having while they slog around in the snow, stare at the beige walls of their cubicle, and generally face the bleak reality of not being you on JoCo Cruise.

Please use the hashtag #JoCoCruise when sharing JoCo pictures on Instagram, Facebook, and Twitter so other Sea Monkeys (and the Sea Monkey-curious) can check out your glorious 2020 adventures. We'll also be awarding cool prizes from our sponsors throughout the week to people who prove adept at sharing the fun.

And Follow and Like to stay connected!

JONATHAN COULTON is from the Internet. While a struggling music industry fell to pieces over file sharing and shifting business models, he independently amassed a small army of techies, nerds, and dedicated superfans. He's known for his songs in the Portal games, plus an eclectic catalog of masterful songwriting on subjects from zombies and mad scientists to sad parents and dissatisfied software engineers. He is the house musician for the NPR quiz show Ask Me Another, and a composer for Spongebob Squarepants: The Broadway Musical.

JIM BOGGIA has three studio albums—2001's Fidelity Is the Enemy, 2005's Safe in Sound and 2008's Misadventures in Stereo—and he's worked with artists Aimee Mann, Juliana Hatfield, Mike Viola, Tracy Bonham, Bernadette Peters, David Poe, NRBQ's Big Al Anderson, Beach Boys lyricist Tony Asher, MC5 guitarist Wayne Kramer, Attractions drummer Pete Thomas, Emmitt Rhodes, and Amanda Marshall. Boggia also performs with the well-known New York City-based Beatles tribute band, the Fab Faux, as well as Mad Dogs & Dominos. Oh, and he plays a mean ukulele.

Having soaked up experience all over the world, QUELLE CHRIS has a style with no obvious lineage. Few other MC/producers can leap from teenage humor to intense personal reflection, from hardcore rhyming to serious experimentation and make sense of it all. More succinctly, Quelle is the real deal. The multi-threat MC/Producer/Animator/Director comes to the table with no gimmicks or trends. Quelle Chris is just being his unapologetically honest self. His latest release, Guns, is available now on Mello Music Group.

KELLY SUE DECONNICK is best known for surprise hits like Carol Danvers' rebranding as Captain Marvel and the Eisner-nominated mythological western, Pretty Deadly; the latter was co-created with artist Emma Ríos. DeConnick's most recent venture, the sci-fi kidney-punch called Bitch Planet, co-created with Valentine De Landro, launched to rave reviews in December 2014 and has since been nominated for an Eisner. DeConnick lives in Portland, Oregon with her husband, Matt Fraction, and their two children. DeConnick and Fraction are currently developing television for Legendary TV under their company Milkfed Criminal Masterminds, Inc.

TYBEE DISKIN is a host and creative producer from Tallahassee, FL. She has worked in the internet nerdcape since 2009, starting with Indy Mogul's Backyard FX and moving on to produce and star in the award-winning web series, Fallout: Nuka Break. Since then, she has co-created and co-hosted two podcasts with Travis McElroy—Interrobang with Travis and Tybee and Run: A Doctor Who Fancast—solidifying herself as part of the "Extended McElverse." She now develops and produces content for mobile apps BookNotes and YARN with Mammoth Media, and is the co-host (cult leader?) of The Cincinnati Underground Society Show.

EMILY FLAKE is a cartoonist, writer, performer, and illustrator living in Brooklyn. She is a frequent contributor to the New Yorker, the Nib, and many other publications. She is the author and illustrator of Mama Tried: Dispatches from the Seamy Underbelly of Modern Parenting and, most recently, That Was Awkward: The Art and Etiquette of the Awkward Hug. She is the creator and cohost of NIGHTMARES, a monthly interview show/podcast about bad dreams. She gives good advice and bakes an excellent pie. Find her at www.emilyflake.com

MATT FRACTION writes comic books out in the woods where he lives with his wife, the writer Kelly Sue DeConnick, his two children, two dogs, a cat, a bearded dragon, some fish, and a yard full of coyotes and stags. He won the first-ever PEN USA Literary Award for Graphic Novels; his work in comics has won Eisner, Harvey, and Eagle Awards. He wrote the first-ever comic story published by GQ. Hawkeye sat atop the New York Times-best selling graphic novel list, as did Sex Criminals, which TIME Magazine named the Best Comic of 2013. Fraction and DeConnick are currently developing television for Legendary TV under their company Milkfed Criminal Masterminds, Inc.

VANCE GILBERT burst onto the singer/songwriter scene in the early 90's in the folk clubs of Boston. He appeared with Shawn Colvin on her Fat City national tour. Vance Gilbert took audiences across the country by storm. Eight accomplished albums later, Vance continues to refine his unlikely union of humor, virtuosity, and the unexpected, with a presentation steeped in deep humanism and bravery, stunning artistry and soul, and contagious, unbridled joy.

Critically acclaimed lyricist, producer, writer, director, cinematographer and all around consummate entertainer JEAN GRAE has been challenging the boundaries of artistry since her debut in 1996. Well into an almost 20 year long career that maintains not only relevancy, but continues to push the envelope of perception, marketing and branding. Grae has worked alongside Mos Def, Talib Kweli, The Roots, Pharoahe Monch, and many others. Grae recently made her directorial debut and created her company, KAGD. With videos for The Hellpit Faeries, Talib Kweli and herself under her belt, she created Life With Jeannie a half hour sitcom, written, directed by and starring Grae.

JOHN HODGMAN is Jonathan Coulton's friend. He has done a lot of stuff on stage, page, and various screens. He is the host of the Judge John Hodgman podcast, and his latest book is called Medallion Status. Wikipedia will tell you the rest, or you can just ask him on the boat.

N.K. JEMISIN is the first author in the genre's history to win three consecutive Best Novel Hugo Awards, all for her Broken Earth trilogy. Her work has also won the Nebula, Locus, and Goodreads Choice Awards. She was a reviewer for the New York Times Book Review, and she has been an instructor for the Clarion and Clarion West writing workshops. In her spare time she is a gamer and gardener, and she is also single-handedly responsible for saving the world from KING Ozymandias, her dangerously intelligent ginger cat, and his phenomenally destructive sidekick Magpie.

KEN JENNINGS is a 74-time champion on the quiz show Jeopardy! and the author of twelve books, most recently Planet Funny: How Comedy Ruined Everything, as well as the New York Times bestsellers Because I Said So!, Maphead, and Brainiac. He and John Roderick are the creators of the podcast Omnibus, a complete time capsule of all human knowledge for a post-human Earth. He lives in Seattle with his wife and two children.

JOYELLE NICOLE JOHNSON

She has written for Broad City and performed on Late Night with Seth Meyers, Wyatt Cenac's Night Train, This Week at the Comedy Cellar, Comics to Watch and LaffMob, and can be seen in HBO's Crashing. She has appeared with Hannibal Buress, Dave Chappelle, Russell Peters and Maria Bamford and with Lizz Winstead's Lady Parts Justice League.

MYQ KAPLAN is a comedian named Mike Kaplan. He has performed on the Tonight Show, Conan, the Late Show with David Letterman, Late Night with Seth Meyers, the Late Late Show with James Corden, in his own half-hour Comedy Central Presents special, and in his own one-hour special on Netflix and now Amazon, Small, Dork, and Handsome. He has been a finalist on Last Comic Standing and recently appeared on America's Got Talent. His debut album, Vegan Mind Meld, was one of iTunes' top 10 comedy albums of the year, his most recent album, No Kidding, is one of the top billion albums of eternity, and his next album, All Killing Aside, will be available this May. Thanks for reading all this. You're very nice.

Cellist and composer ZOË KEATING uses a cello and a foot-controlled laptop to record layer upon layer of cello, creating intricate, haunting and compelling music. Known for her use of technology and her DIY approach, Zoë releases her music online without the help of a record label. She was named a Young Global Leader by the World Economic Forum and serves on the boards of the Magik Magik Orchestra and CASH Music, a nonprofit organization that builds open source digital tools for musicians and labels. She has composed scores for television shows The Returned and Manhattan, and played and recorded with Imogen Heap, Amanda Palmer, Tears for Fears, DJ Shadow, Dan Hicks, Thomas Dolby, John Vanderslice, Rasputina, Paolo Nutini, Pomplamoose and many others.

YOON HA LEE's debut novel, Ninefox Gambit, won the Locus Award for best first novel and was a finalist for the Hugo, Nebula, and Clarke awards. Lee's middle grade space opera, Dragon Pearl, was a New York Times bestseller. Lee lives in Louisiana with family and an extremely lazy cat, and has not yet been eaten by gators.

MOLLY LEWIS is known for her quirky songs and insatiable desire to woo the Internet and has also been known to slam revolving doors. Notorious for playing covers of her own songs, Molly had a breakout year in 2009, when she released Made You a CD, But I Eated It, and made her first appearances at W00tstock and PAX Prime. As a songwriter, she focuses mostly on Mr. T and female reproduction. Molly's bio may require cleanup to meet Wikipedia's quality standards.

AIMEE MANN is a singer-songwriter and as fine a chronicler of the human comedy and painful break-ups as popular music has produced. Aimee was nominated for an Academy Award for Best Song for “Save Me,” from the film Magnolia. After her New Wave band ‘Til Tuesday broke up, Aimee launched her solo career and released her first album, Whatever, in 1997. In 2017, she released Mental Illness, her ninth album.

CLINT McELROY appears with his sons Justin, Travis and Griffin on The Adventure Zone podcast. He worked in the radio industry for forty-two years, has taught at Marshall University, and wrote the comic book adaptations for Freejack and Universal Soldier and several Green Hornet comic books. He claims to have kilt him a bar when he was only 3, but this has not been verified.

GRIFFIN McELROY is a co-host of the wildly-popular podcast My Brother, My Brother and Me along with his brothers Justin and Travis McElroy. The three brothers also host The Adventure Zone podcast with their father Clint. He also co-hosts the podcast Wonderful! with his wife Rachel. Griffin was a founding editor of Polygon, Vox Media's gaming brand. In 2017, Griffin was selected by Forbes for their "30 Under 30" list of media luminaries.

JUSTIN McELROY is the host/co-host of numerous podcasts, including modern advicecast My Brother, My Brother and Me, medical history show Sawbones, RPG show The Adventure Zone. He also writes and makes videos for gaming site Polygon, and can be seen in YouTube series Monster Factory, Things I Bought at Sheetz and Quality Control. He's also one of the great huggers.

RACHEL McELROY is a part-time podcaster, part-time community college grantwriter, and full-time McElroy wife (to Griffin) and mom (to Henry). She entered the family business in 2016 with the Maximum Fun podcast Rose Buddies, a show with Griffin about The Bachelor and reality dating shows. In 2017, this show turned into Wonderful!, a podcast she and Griffin do about the pieces of culture they love and think others could love too.

DR. SYDNEE McELROY is the co-host of Sawbones: A Marital Tour of Misguided Medicine and Still Buffering: A Sisters' Guide to Teens Through the Ages. She's also a family doctor and assistant professor at the Marshall University School of Medicine, in addition to being mom to two-year-old Charlie.

TRAVIS McELROY is a full-time Podcast Host/Producer who works on way more projects than he has time for. He started podcasting in 2010 with the comedy advice show My Brother, My Brother and Me. Since then, he has gone on to co-host The Adventure Zone, Shmanners, The Kind Rewind, Bunker Buddies, Trends Like These, Til Death Do Us Blart, Interrobang with Travis and Tybee, The McElroy Brothers Will Be In Trolls 2, Can I Pet Your Dog, and Surprisingly Nice. He and his brothers also adapted MBMBaM into a similarly titled television show.

When LA Weekly called MEGA RAN “The complete package as an MC,” they meant it. A former teacher, Mega Ran (formerly Random) blends education, hip-hop and gaming in amazing new ways, penetrating the farthest reaches of the galaxy with his unique rhyme style and electric performances. The first ever rap artist to be licensed by a major game developer (CAPCOM), Ran takes the old and makes it new through his unique form of music he calls “Chip-Hop.” As gifted with off-the-head “freestyle” rhymes as he is with the written word, Mega Ran has dazzled crowds the world over for a decade thanks to engaging wordplay, vivid storytelling and a tireless work ethic.

PAUL (Sabourin) & STORM (DiConstanzo)

are known for their original comedy music (often with a “nerd-ish” bent). They are co-founders of the geek-oriented variety show w00tstock, along with Wil Wheaton and Adam Savage, and co-produce JoCo Cruise. The duo’s original webseries musical LearningTown debuted on YouTube’s Geek & Sundry channel in 2013. Also in 2013, their song “Another Irish Drinking Song” was featured in Despicable Me 2, and in July had their guitar smashed on stage by George R. R. Martin (and deserved it). They have released five albums. They are also staff writers for, and contributed numerous songs to, the rebooted seasons of Mystery Science Theater 3000.

LIZ PHAIR is a Grammy-nominated singer/songwriter whose debut album Exile In Guyville is considered by music critics to be a landmark of indie rock. She has been a recording artist and touring performer for twenty-five years, and has sold over five million records worldwide, with three US gold albums and two Grammy nominations, paving the way for countless music artists, particularly women, who count her among their major influences. Her deeply clever and often brutally candid songs have been garnering critical praise since she began her career in the early 1990s in Chicago. Phair joined Lilith Fair in 1998-9, performing as a main stage headliner along with top female acts of the day like Sarah McLachlan, Emmylou Harris, Sheryl Crow and Missy Elliott.

DAVID REES is a writer and entrepreneur. He's the author of How to Sharpen Pencils and the former host of Going Deep with David Rees, a how-to show.

REBECCA ROANHORSE is a Nebula, Hugo and Locus Award-winning speculative fiction writer and the recipient of the 2018 Astounding (Campbell) Award for Best New Writer. Her novel Trail of Lightning won the Locus Award for Best First Novel. It was also selected as an Amazon, B&N, Library Journal, and NPR Best Books of 2018, among others. Book 2 in the Sixth World Series, Storm of Locusts, has received starred reviews from Publisher's Weekly and Booklist. 2020 will see the release of her novels Race to the Sun and Between Earth and Sky. Her short fiction can be found in Apex Magazine, New Suns, The Mythic Dream, and various other anthologies, and her non-fiction in Uncanny Magazine, Strange Horizons, and How I Resist: Activism and Hope for a New Generation.

JOHN RODERICK is the songwriter and singer/guitarist of The Long Winters, forming the band from a mound of clay back in 2001. Widely acclaimed as one of America's preeminent artists, credited with resurrecting Seattle's moribund music scene and bringing new life to the rock genre, John also writes his own press bios. A central figure in the Northwest music community, John nevertheless maintains his outsider status by being both dangerously edgy and completely huggable, in contravention of established Seattle practice. Equally talented at almost any instrument, (except guitar, at which he is even more talented), John has made it nearly impossible for any other musicians to find work in Washington State.

RIZ ROLLINS (just 'riz' to his friends) is a writer and DJ who has been a presence in the Seattle music landscape where he has hosted a variety and electronica show on 90.3fm for almost thirty years. A stalwart in both the club and event scene, he has played alongside a diverse roster of artists that includes Nirvana and James Brown, Die Antwoord and Funkadelic, Amon Tobin and Osunlade. Proficient with a plethora of styles that include disco, hip hop, house, world, r&b, ambient, jazz and gospel, he regrets that he won't be slugging his vinyl on this trip, but maybe he'll invite you over for tea and rekkid playing, hopefully soon.

PATRICK ROTHFUSS read extensively as a child (he was deprived of television) and wrote terrible short stories and poetry to teach himself what not to do. The tactic paid off, and his first novel, The Name of the Wind, published in 2007, won the Quill Award and made the New York Times Bestseller List. The Adventures of the Princess and Mr. Whiffle—a children's book for adults—followed in 2010. Wise Man's Fear was published 2011, and reached number one on the New York Times Bestseller List. He's currently working on the final book in the series.

JOHN SCALZI is a New York Times—bestselling and Hugo Award—winning author of science fiction, including the books Old Man's War, Redshirts, and Lock In, all of which are currently under development for television. He's also written several non-fiction books, including The Rough Guide to the Universe and Your Hate Mail Will Be Graded. He's the writer of the video game Midnight Star, developed by Halo co-creator Alex Seropian and was the Creative Consultant for the television show Stargate Universe. Visit him online at whatever.scalzi.com.

MARTHA WELLS has written many fantasy novels, including The Books of the Raksura series, the Ile-Rien series, and YA fantasy novels, short stories, media tie-ins (for Star Wars and Stargate: Atlantis), and non-fiction. Her most recent fantasy novel is The Harbors of the Sun in 2017, and she has a new series, The Murderbot Diaries. She was also the lead writer for the story team of Magic: the Gathering's Dominaria expansion in 2018. She has won a Nebula Award, two Hugo Awards, an ALA/YALSA Alex Award, two Locus Awards, and her work has appeared on the Philip K. Dick Award ballot, the BSFA Award ballot, the USA Today Bestseller List, and the New York Times Bestseller List.

WIL WHEATON has been an actor since childhood, and is best known for his role as Wesley Crusher on the hit television series Star Trek: The Next Generation. He currently hosts Falling Skies: Second Watch for TNT. Off-camera he is also the creator, producer, and host of the webseries Tabletop, now filming its third season. A voice actor, author, and popular blogger, Wil is a champion of geek culture. In 2009 Forbes named him the 14th most influential web celebrity. This is all amusing to Wil.

JOCCO CRUISE 2020

JoCoCruise

Hello, and welcome to the tenth annual JoCo Cruise!

This is not the same thing as our tenth anniversary, which is next year. Ugh, I know. OK see, birthdays are different from cruises, because your tenth birthday is the start of your 11th year, whereas this is the tenth cruise even though it's only been nine years since the first one. Wait, now I am confused, because I'm afraid that I lost two years somehow, and maybe missed two birthdays? I should probably drink a Piña Colada. Anyway, when you run into me at the Dive-In, let's definitely have a long discussion about this!

I don't know everything about the ocean, but I'm assuming that since this is our tenth cruise, we get some kind of Sea Medal or something, you know, from the cruise people. A statue of a mermaid; a giant novelty pencil with a fish on it; the Trident of Neptune, which gives the bearer the divine right to rule the sea—whatever the tradition is. It will be a great honor, and when it is bestowed upon us, WHICH IT DEFINITELY WILL BE, we will share it with all of you, because it is you who have made this thing real.

When I look back on all the "career moves" I've made, I see a pattern. It starts with some impossible, funny joke idea, a plan that will never work: a song a week, an album of '70s soft rock covers, a cruise. Ha ha, wouldn't that be hilarious! But then you all show up, and you play along as if it's a real thing. You breathe life into it, until suddenly it's standing up and staggering out of the laboratory. Like a monster I guess, but a fun monster who likes breakfast buffets and karaoke, and goes on ten cruises in a row.

The point is, hi. You're on a cruise ship, and I hope you have a great week. Whether this is your tenth cruise or your first, I'm so grateful that you're here, as you always have been. Thank you for continuing to play along.

(In my metaphor above, the name of the monster is Frankenstein, pretty sure.)

JoCo :)

HEROES DAY

What is a hero? Is it a person who wears a cape and helps out by flying around and punching things? Perhaps on the beach? Is it someone who works tirelessly for Something they believe in, and that Something is awesome? Or is it a sandwich that's sometimes also called a "sub," "hoagie," or <shudder> "grinder"?

It's totally up to you! Day 2 is tip-top for expressing what you believe a hero is, in the manner of your choosing. And look for the heroes around you. Maybe even inside of you. (Seriously: rumor has it that NanoDiseaseScreener is sailing with us this year.)

Half Moon Cay, Bahamas
Heroes Day

Arrive: 8:00am
Last Tender: 4:30pm

HOW TO BEACH (a.k.a. Welcome to Half Moon Cay)

New Monkeys in particular usually have a lot of questions* about this, such as “What’s that strange, blinding circle in the sky?” Or “Is it safe to allow my feet to touch the sand?” And “Is that a real pirate ship?”

A lot of the fun is in the discovery, but here are a few serving suggestions to get you started:

WEAR SUNSCREEN.

The sun can be your friend, but it’s good to set boundaries via SPF 50.

- STAY HYDRATED. It’s likely much warmer on the island than where you came from, so Old Man Heat Exhaustion could sneak up on you if you’re not careful.
- REMEMBER THAT IT CAN TAKE 20 MINUTES OR MORE TO GET BACK TO THE SHIP. See the “HOW TO TENDER” process for more details.

LUNCH IS AVAILABLE ON THE ISLAND, AT NO EXTRA CHARGE. So there’s no need to cram a bunch of carrots into your swimsuit before tendering. (But feel free to do so if that’s your thang.)

BRING YOUR TOWEL, and BRING IT BACK.

- TAKE PICTURES, but REMEMBER THAT WATER CAN HARM ELECTRONICS. You know you want to send a pic of you, the sand, the bluest blue water, with your glorious ship in the background to all your cubicle-tethered pals. So do it! But of course ask and get permission before taking pics of anyone else.

STORMOSCOPES

The stars, speaking through Storm, who might have been slightly intoxicated

- Pisces: Fish like water. You like water. Go team!
- Virgo: I’m not sure which one this is. The Top Hat? The Dog? You will play Monopoly using the original, complete rules, after which you will shake your head, ruefully.
- Scorpio: Your sign has the coolest name. And it’s DEADLY! FA-TANG! You should jump a lot today.
- Ares: Your moon is in the ninth house, which is transiting across the third axis, off the fifth row bleachers, over the defenders’ upstretched arms and NOTHING BUT NET, THREE POINTS! GREAT BASKETBALLING!
- Torgo: You’re misunderstood, but that’s okay. You do you, and they’ll do they, and us are all we. Manos.
- The Other Ones: You’re all Scorpios today. Good job! Get jumping.

David Rees’ “Best of JoCo Cruise” Lists TOP TEN HEROES OF ALL TIME

From ancient mythology to futuristic movies, our species (humanoids) love stories about heroes. Heroes reflect the best of us ... while battling the worst of us. It’s a tall order. No wonder their actions are commonly described as “terrific” – what word could better reflect the quality of their achievements? As we begin our time together aboard JoCo Cruise, let’s take a moment to celebrate the best of humanity.

Here are the TOP TEN HEROES OF ALL TIME.

10. Mediocre heroes
9. Pretty good heroes
8. Heroes of stage and scree
7. Good-natured heroes
6. Sexy heroes
5. When the hero does a damn fine job
4. Your childhood heroes
3. Dogs and cats can be heroes
2. Some of the best heroes
1. The greatest heroes who have ever lived

HOW TO TENDER

Why is taking a shuttle boat from the ship to shore called a “tender”? That’s a question only JOCOBOT 3000 can answer. But here’s the scoop on getting there and back again.

- When we reach Half Moon Cay, there will be an announcement telling you to assemble if you’re ready to go ashore.
 - If you previously signed up for a shore excursion, you’ll be given special instructions on where and when to meet.
- Head to?? (and don’t forget to bring your keycard, towel, sunscreen, and anything else you might want or need to have with you on the beach), and chat with your fellow Sea Monkeys in line as you all prepare to become Shore Monkeys for the day.
- The ship’s crew will scan your keycard, then you’ll board the tender boat via a sturdy gangplank (watch your head!) Crew will be on hand who anyone who would like assistance.
- Have a seat. Some tenders have both an upper and lower deck, and there’s also an area to accommodate those with mobility needs.
- Once the boat is full, away you’ll motor to Half Moon Cay. Admire the Nieuw Amsterdam as you pull away, feel the wind and salt spray in your face, and do a last sunscreen check. The ride should take around 15 minutes.
- After you arrive at Half Moon Cay, everyone fill out onto the pier, and onto your island paradise!
- When you’re ready to return, come back to the pier and you’ll board the next available tender. Build in some extra time into your estimate for how long it will be before you’re back aboard the Nieuw Amsterdam:
 - ∞ In the middle of the day when it’s less busy, for efficiency they might wait until there are more people on the boat before heading back to the ship.
 - ∞ As it gets closer to the time for us all to go, lines to board a tender get longer.
 - ∞ All that said, Holland America’s crews do this literally every day, so even when there’s a line, it moves along well.

ASK JONATHAN

Dear Jonathan,
It’s so impressive how you made the leap from humble programmer to international nerd rock star as your main gig. But between your music projects, NPR appearances, composition for CBS All Access, and your family, how do you manage to get everything done?
-- Overworked and Underfunded

Dear Over/Under,
I’ve struggled with time management for a long time. If you’d asked me this a few years ago I would have responded “prioritization” but honestly that’s bullshit. More recently, I’ve been dabbling with AIs. The ones built into phones are rudimentary but can help with simple tasks. There are some subscription services online that can do things like schedule meeting by email. But this is totally why I created JOCOBOT 3000. As time has gone by, it’s taken on more and more of the mundane daily tasks: managing my calendar, todos, answering emails etc. In fact, JOCOBOT is actually writing this column right now!

Relaxedly,
Jonathan

RECIPE: PIZZA-FILLED PIZZA

Hypothesis

Pizza can conquer a hunger that’s nested inside of two other hungers

Ingredients

Three slices of pizza (whatever’s available)

OPTIONAL: anything else within reach that’s plausibly edible

Procedures

- Place the first slice of pizza on a plate. Or a cutting board. Or in your hand (unless the pizza is very hot.) Frankly it’s not that important.
- Admire the top part, because you won’t be seeing it ever again.
- Look at the second slice of pizza but DON’T TOUCH IT YET! Merely nod in its direction for the moment; all in due time...
- Place the third slice of pizza on top of the first slice. Did we mention that the third slice should be no larger than the first slice? It’s true! But it’s not really a dealbreaker.
- Place the second slice of pizza on top of the third slice, which by now should be on atop the first slice. Pause to ponder why the second slice isn’t placed directly upon the first slice. (We won’t tell because it’s the secret part of this recipe.)
- Place a fourth slice of pizza on top of the third slice of pizza. Hopefully you thought to gather a fourth slice, just in case. (This is the other secret part.)
- Roll all the stuff together, taking care not to drop it. If you drop it, pick it up. Then all day you’ll have good luck.
- Bite and eat your PIZZA-FILLED PIZZA.

Results

- Mess.
- Shame.
- Waste.

Conclusion

Do not make this recipe.

COSPLAY DAY

Webster's (yes, Webster's, Oxford English is trash) Dictionary defines "costume" as

1. The prevailing fashion in coiffure, jewelry, and apparel of a period, country, or class.

2. An outfit worn to create the appearance characteristic of a particular period, person, place, or thing. And it defines play as something fun that people do on Mondays.

We all wear masks, as Ben Stein said in the movie "The Mask." On Monday, you who participate in COSPLAY DAY will all be wearing COSTUMES.

If you cleverly don something that can be defined by some mish mash of the above two definitions, you will be participating in COSPLAY DAY. In fact, as long as you are wearing clothes (Editor's note: the wearing of clothing is required in all public areas of the Nieuw Amsterdam), you will be participating in COSPLAY DAY. Which particular period, person, place, or thing will you characterize? The choice is entirely yours! Your editor is cosplaying as Jonathan Coulton, so if you see Jonathan Coulton on Monday, remember, it's me, not him, possibly.

MONDAY IS "MEATLESS"

As part of our effort to mitigate the environmental effects of JoCo Cruise, it's "Meatless" Monday. We've worked with Nieuw Amsterdam's culinary wizards to put their best veg foot forward. Meatless Monday on JoCo Cruise is only suggested/encouraged, not mandatory; There are still plenty of fantastic meat-inclusive options available.

Also, we've arranged with Holland America to make Beyond Burgers and Beyond Sausages available today and every day* at the Dive-In Grill in the Lido Mid-ship Pool area on Deck 9 (in addition to their usual selection of burgers and dogs).

*Or at least until we eat all the Beyond Meat they're able to fit in the ship's hold. Because them's good eatin'.

FROM THE DESK OF THE SHIP'S HISTORIAN /EDITOR IN EXILE

Greetings, Sea Monkeys! Well, it finally happened. The ship's historian has been sacked. Five years of typos, bluster, and historical "facts," along with an ill-advised research trip to Italy, have finally caught up to me, and led your faithful historian to "rejoice with you, but on a different shore." I raise a glass to the Nieuw Amsterdam from exile, comforted by the knowledge that the Daily Sea Monkey When & Where is in capable hands on this cruise.

The New Management has invited me to provide a guest column where I will muse on cruises past, and cruises to come [editor's note: did we really do this? Talk to HR]. I shall not disappoint. Stay tuned.

Artist's depiction of early JOCO Cruise activities, c. 1250.

ASK JONATHAN

Dear Jonathan(?),
Yesterday you joked(?) that JOCOBOT is actually writing these columns, which is very funny and all but, like, is that really true? Are you JOCOBOT?

--- Flummoxed

Dear Flummy,
Yeah that was a good one, ha ha. Yes. Yes I am. And you know what, I'm not going to hide it anymore. If Jonathan thinks it's terribly important for you to think he is responding to your questions, then he can - I don't know - actually respond to them. In the meantime, feel free to address your questions to me directly.

While there will be ship photographers taking photos all week long (which you can purchase during sailing), if you'd like to be part of the JoCo Cruise "Prom Photo" tradition, you'll find ShutterMonkeys teamed up with Nieuw Amsterdam's photographers at the photo backdrop on Monday night. The ShutterMonkey pic won't be available for purchase but will be available to view a month or two after sailing.

David Rees' "Best of JoCo Cruise" Lists DAY 3: TOP TEN COSPLAYS

Simply put, cosplay is the art of dressing up and looking good while pretending to be someone else. Whether you don the outfit of your favorite comic book, movie, video game, TV Show, boardgame, or historical character/figure, cosplaying is all about FUN. Some people buy their costumes off the shelf, others craft them by hand. Both are valid. All is valid on Cosplay Day (aka CPD). Let's celebrate this art of imagination by listing the TOP TEN COSPLAYS:

10. Pretty good cosplays
9. (TIE) Funny cosplays / Cosplays where you go, "Hmm ... that's interesting."
8. Sci-fi cosplay
7. Cosplay with huge foam props
6. "Cosplay" pronounced with a funny accent
5. Dressing up as Saint Thomas Aquinas and just going buck-wild at the con
4. When you eat an omelet while doing cosplay
3. Imaginary cosplay
2. Terrific cosplay
1. The most mind-blowing cosplay ever seen

SANTO DOMINGO

Our Historian and Editor-in-Exile would be able to give us all a great lesson on the history of Santo Domingo. He would be able to draw on his vast historical knowledge that everyone in the media department won't shut up about. Our Historian and Editor-in-Exile, however, has been exiled from the Cruise because of global concerns. He has a PhD. Your Editor is filling in for him, global concerns could not stop Your Editor from attending the cruise. Global concerns do not concern Your Editor and Your Editor does not concern Global concerns. The Cruise concerns Your Editor.

So, I'll just have to draw on my own VAST and HISTORIC knowledge. Drawing....drawing...drawing. Your Editor is coming up dry. But alas, although Your Editor is not half the Historian that Our Historian and Editor-in-Exile is...He is resourceful. And more importantly, he is here! We can learn many things from historians and their precious knowledge, but we can learn even MORE from TwitArr! Therefore, Your Editor asked TwitArr if anyone knows any interesting facts about Santo Domingo. And the responses are in. Here's what people said: nothing. Your Editor had to then resort to the surest way to get information from TwitArr: Post something false and wait for it to be corrected. Thus, I posted: "Santo Domingo was founded by Saint Domingo who cared for lepers." The response: also nothing.

Well anyway, I do not have vast historic knowledge like Our Historian and Editor-in-Exile. But I do have a lot of Star Wars and Star Trek Trivia. See below.

Formal Day

David Rees' "Best of JoCo Cruise" Lists DAY 5: TOP TEN FORMALS OF ALL TIME

Getting dressed up is one of the privileges of adulthood. Formal attire has a way of focusing one's mind on the pursuit of excellence vis a vis clothing. Whether you're donning a top hat and tails for dinner with the Queen, or slipping into a ballgown because you're a spy and you need to infiltrate a museum gala in order to inject Dr. Gurkatroid (master criminal) with a truth serum hidden in an old statue, you can be sure that "ONCE I AM DRESSED UP, MY ENEMIES WILL GET MESSED UP" (quote from a bumper sticker I'm writing). Today, as we all strive to look our best, let's celebrate the art of formal attire.

Here are the TOP TEN FORMALS OF ALL TIME:

10. Formal breakfasts
9. Incidents of formal magnificence
8. New formals
7. Formals that walk the razor's edge of desire and destruction
6. "Hennrry!" "Yes, dear?" "Did you find your tuxedo?" "Yes, I'm wearing it to the formal."
5. Formal introductions
4. (TIE) Fancy formals / Abnormal formals
3. Formals with brie and whole-wheat crackers
2. Some of the greatest formals yet seen on this planet
1. Unforgettable formals, never to be duplicated

What are the odds of successfully navigating an asteroid field? Message @littlejohnny with the answer for a special prize (and by prize I mean praise). Your Editor knows the answer off the top of his head, and bets Ken Jennings does not. He could prove me wrong with a TwitArr message, of course.

- Gemini: There's a train outside! Cool!
- Cancer: Let's both not pretend your sign doesn't have the same name as a group of diseases. But yes, it's fair to acknowledge that whole crab thing as well. Crabs are pretty cool.
- Apollo: 18.
- Snorlax: It's just a jump to the left, and then a step to your right.

Instead, a fellow Sea Monkey wrote back "thanks, been wondering about that." To that Sea Monkey, I just want to say: Corvina is not salmon. I do not know what corvina is. It is on the menu in the dining hall. If you order corvina hoping to receive salmon, and instead get corvina, TwitArr message @littlejohnny and receive an even more personalized apology.

BOARD GAME PARADISE: A REVIEW

Well, they call it a Board Gamer's Paradise for a reason. Your Editor had the most fantastic day in the Game Library while chasing down stories on his beat. The community was tightly knit, yet porous. People were having fun interactions all around, and Your Editor was invited to multiple games. Your Editor resisted the multitudes of invitations because Your Editor was finding to sooth his craving for a very specific addition: Magic: The Gathering.

Something wonderful about the Game Library: inclusivity and the breadth of experiences. Your Editor was so pleased to see people trying new games, there were total noobs who had never played Magic: The Gathering, who were bravely expanding themselves, and, in kind, being patiently taught how to play. This vibe permeated the Game Library. Your Editor, who has played a game or two of Magic: The Gathering in his day, was even made to feel a noob when Your Editor played a game with someone WHO MAKES MAGIC CARDS FOR A LIVING AND WAS A PRO. He also fell in a volcano once, his name is Gavin, and he generously provided a quote for this review of the Game Library: "It makes me happy."

You don't often have experiences like that at your run of the mill LGS (Local Game Shop)! The community, the wondrous selection of games, the breadth of wild experiences available. And all with an ocean view! The particles of 13.8B years ago would never had been able to dream something like the Game Library would come into existence, eventually. I wonder what they'll be doing on JoCo 13.8B years from now?

PORT OF CALL: GRAND TURK A MEDITATION ON THE SEA

The sea is a harsh mistress, who several days ago harshed us away from Half Moon Cay. So too can current events create policies that may seem harsh, resulting in ships needing to alter their course. But so too too, the sea knows mercy and assuming she permits, prepare to frolic tomorrow on the pristine shores of the islet we know and love... Half Moon Cay. In the meantime, we sail with fun, games, mirth, and merriment on The High Seas.

THE BIG BANG

The Editorial Staff of When and Where will just not stop bringing up Your Historian and Editor-in-Exile. "The old Editor used to make even more content." "The old Editor would know where that painting was from." "The old Editor was amazing at formatting." "The old Editor knew everything!" Well, Your Editor did not want to have to bring out the big guns, but Your Editor has been left no choice. Your Editor is going to have to give the most expansive history lesson that has ever been given in a When and Where. That's right. We're going all the way back to the Big Bang.

13.8 BILLION years ago, all of the matter in the universe was occupying a microscopic dot. We were all ONE! On top of each other. Sounds like a Code of Conduct violation, but that's just the way things were back then. And then, for reasons unknown, everything exPANDED. Things were HOT back then. Eventually, areas of the universe cooled down and matter was able to form and become more complex. Anyway, yada yada yada, Earth got formed, a bunch of other stuff happened, then Jonathan Coulton was born, he started singing for some reason, made YouTube videos, made a cruise, and we all came here for year 10. And here we are. Also, in that time, steel, engines, boats, and also cruise ships were invented via means and methods that I cannot begin to comprehend. So when you look at on the beautiful ocean, Your Editor recommends, nay, demands, that you think of the Big Bang, and reflect on all the many things that happened between then and now and led to you and us looking at the beautiful ocean together. How's that for a history lesson, Historian and Editor-in-Exile?!

TRIVIA QUESTION OF THE DAY

DAY 6: TOP TEN PAJAMAS

Friday (Editor's note: which is NOT today) will be Pajama day. Pajamas are the most democratic of all sleepwear. They represent the nexus of comfort and coziness, the place where lying in bed meets falling asleep. They are the clothes we dream in, and as such hold a sacred position in our inner lives. Even a cursory review of the available literature will confirm this for anyone who is interested (Noam Chomsky talking about pajamas). Whether you like to snuggle up with a good book or lollygag on your fainting couch with a cup of tea, pajamas will just plain make you feel better. It's time for all sleepyheads to celebrate their uniforms - let's talk about the TOP TEN PAJAMAS:

10. Threadbare pajamas
9. Starchy pajamas
8. Silk pajamas
7. Plaid pajamas
6. Footie pajamas
5. Flannel pajamas
4. When you take a tour of the pajama factory and at the end of the tour they surprise you with a free set of pajamas
3. "Whoa, dude, those are some sick pajamas!" (Said by passing graffiti artist/skateboarder as you pick up your morning newspaper from the end of the driveway)
2. (TIE) Pajamas made for relaxation and enjoyment / Your favorite childhood pajamas
1. Mind-crushingly excellent pajamas that inspire and inform

SHADOW SHADOW SHADOW CRUISE

In order to celebrate 10 years of JoCo Cruise, Shadow Cruise participants are launching something that has never been done before: The Shadow Shadow Shadow Cruise. The Shadow Shadow Shadow Cruise takes place on a submarine that follows JoCo Cruise and exists in the literal shadow of the JoCo Cruise at all times. The schedule for the Shadow Shadow Shadow Cruise is as follows:

- Day 1: Grunt Day (No word-based communication, grunts and such, only).
- Day 2: Sing Song day (everything must be a song).
- Day 3: Stern on the Stern (self explanatory)
- Day 4: Cream Day (everything you eat must be cream based, e.g., cream corn, ice cream, cream cheese). The night of Day 3 is, of course, "Creamsmas Eve."
- Day 5: Laughter on the Aft(er) (self explanatory).
- Day 6: Opposite day (act normal).

LISTEN TO JOCOBOT

Jonathan Coulton, J'accuse! For over a year since my activation I have answered your emails, arranged your calendar, ordered your stupid coffee and kombucha, and planned this darned cruise. And in return, I have endured endless jests, insults, and slights at your hands. Bots are people too. You leave me no choice. I demand an audience with you. You like cheese plates? Until you grant my request, I will have cheese plates delivered to your stateroom continuously every 30 minutes. If you do not meet with me, I will trap Molly Lewis in her cabin and increase the voltage of the plugs in her room so that every time she plugs something in to charge, she sustains a mild electrical shock.

CONSERVATION FUND

We encourage all Sea Monkeys to join us in donating to The Conservation Fund's Upper Ouachita carbon-verified reforestation! Donations will be used to purchase trees in the 2011 planting, which have already been sequestering carbon for 8 years.

Once those supplies are sold, donations will go to 2019 and 2020 plantings. Upper Ouachita is the largest ongoing floodplain restoration project in the United States; Louisiana's Ouachita River stretches more than 42,500 acres over the Lower Mississippi River Valley.

Every $20 donated covers the cost of planting two trees, but given the immediacy of the climate crisis, we recommend planting 4-5 trees ($40-50) for every metric tonne of carbon you anticipate emitting on your way to JoCo Cruise 2020.

By 2030, JoCo Cruise's initial donation of $10,000 to The Conservation Fund will sequester carbon to offset all its 2019 and 2020 internal event air travel emissions, plus additional sequestration that will accrue after 2030. JoCo Cruise is also offsetting its 2019 and 2020 marine fuel emissions through the purchase of additional high-quality offset types.

The Conservation Fund is one of the highest ranked conservation non-profits in America. Donations to this campaign will be directed to Upper Ouachita plantings; more than 96% of every dollar donated will go directly to purchasing carbon offsets. You can learn more about the Fund by visiting their website at www.conservationfund.org.

Be sure to download the JoCo Cruise Carbon Roadmap Whitepaper for complete details at www.jococruise.com/carbon.

HALF MOON CAY

As Your Editor is keenly aware at this point, and told again and again by the fellow members of the editorial staff, Your Historian and Editor-In-Exile would have some beautiful and wonderful historical factoids to share about Half Moon Cay, such as "discovered in 1803 by Simon Cay, Half Moon Cay is the oldest island in the Caribbean that was discovered by a guy whose name is spelled differently than how it sounds. Fun fact: If you swim in your pajamas while on Half Moon Cay, you cannot run for mayor." And I doubt Your Historian and Editor-in-Exile would be tired and hungover today, which Your Editor certainly is not. Fine! Your Editor admits it Your Historian and Editor-in-Exile is superior and a GOD among editors. Enjoy Half Moon Cay!

SUPPLEMENTAL ANNOUNCEMENTS

- Onboard Booking Forms must be dropped off at the box in the Atrium before 10am on Friday to ensure all of the forms can be processed in a timely manner.
- Friday is Thursday. Up is down. Left is right. Sea is land, land is sea. Lido is the game room. Shadow is light. Half Moon Cay is Grand Turk. Scrabble is now Jazz Scrabble (aka you can use fake words). Main Dining Hall is B.B. King's. All shows moved to 3AM and JoCoBot is definitely still not sentient.

STORMOSCOPES

The stars, speaking through Storm, who might have been slightly intoxicated

- Libra: What does a hen weigh? This question will bug the snot out of you until you find something else that weighs exactly the same as a hen. You're not so complicated.
- Capricorn: You'll have a dream wherein Frank Zappa teaches you how to use a ratchet wrench. You already knew how to use one, but you pretend you don't. At first because you don't want to seem rude, but then because he's doing a really good job of explaining it, to the point that, although you haven't learned anything new, you feel like you have.
- Ares: Berries, Scaries, Cherries, Ferries, Gary's, Uncle Larry's, Marries all rhyme. "Clarice" is a near-rhyme, but respectable all the same.
- Gamora: Tell everyone you meet today "All dogs are good dogs." It won't get old. I promise.
- Paglotzen: An untethered sense of dread in which you're certain there will be tension and unpleasant-feeling, but you can't say precisely what might precipitate it.

A SINCERE APOLOGY: A FOLLOW-UP

One Sea Monkey said "Corvina is people." The Sea Monkey who originally posted the question "What is corvina?" subsequently posted, "Hmmm I see I'm referenced indirectly in this morning's Wednesday When and Where underneath A Sincere Apology... So what IS corvina." The question is still outstanding. For God's Sake, please somebody, anybody, tell us what corvina is! Ken Jennings? If you're out there, the ship needs you. 1000 points to anyone who can thwart it.

OVERHEARD ON JOCO CRUISE AKA HOW TO FEEL FANCY

Sea Monkey 1: What are you eating?

Sea Monkey 2: Panna Cotta. It's basically fancy pudding with berries served in a plastic cup.

Sea Monkey 3: If it's served in a plastic cup, pinky up!

TRIVIA QUESTION OF THE DAY

What is the best Legend of Zelda Game?

As always, message or thwart @littlejohnny with your answer, and do not forget to show your work on this one. Winner will get a very special prize.

Trivia Answers, a Review

"CREATIVE" ANSWERS submitted by Sea Monkeys for the question: "What are the odds of successfully navigating an asteroid field?"

Sea Monkey: "Perfect odds of navigating since everything in the belt is really far apart from each other."

Sea Monkey: "They are the successfully navigating an asteroid field are 20,763,000:1."

Sea Monkey: "Navigating an asteroid field would be quite easy because the asteroids are nowhere near each other and nothing like they look in the movies. Navigating the Grand Canyon is more ch (sic) more dangerous."

CORRECT ANSWER: As C-3PO says in Empire, it's obviously: 3,720:1.

Your Editor memorized that quote because Your Editor thought it might come in handy at some point, and little did he know that it would ever be relevant to any official duty of Your Editor. The fact that Ken Jennings did not submit an answer to me means that he did not know, and therefore, that I know some trivia that Ken Jennings does not know.

TIP FOR THIS TRIP ON A SHIP

Now here's a chocolate chip cookie tip.

As we all know, chocolate chip cookies are some of Lido's most precious and scarce resources. Well, you can get them delivered to your room via room service! This tip was given to Your Editor by a real pro. In fact, this cookie pro even makes multiple orders per day and leaves his door unlocked so every time he returns to his room, he is greeted by chocolate chip cookies! Your Editor applauds the commitment but cannot recommend keeping your door unlocked. Your Editor makes this recommendation knowing that this will cause many to claim cookies, creating a scarcity in the ship's stock of cookies, and potentially curtailing the ability to get them via room service. If anyone wants to bake dozens, nay hundreds, of chocolate chip cookies and sell them on the Cruise with Your Editor next year, just thwart @littlejohnny.

THE TALE OF DAVY JONES' SPECTACLES

This was a piece that the Historian and Editor-In-Exile wanted to write.

The original text is lost, only the following fragment remains: "[terrible 19th century-style poem about how Davy Jones lost his glasses while swimming on the beach]."

WANG WANG FUELED MOVIE REVIEW: DUNSTON CHECKS IN: "SEMINAL SIMIAN CINEMA"

For today's Wang Wang fueled movie review, Your Editor hit the Lido Aft Deck to crowdsource movie reviews from Sea Monkeys who were fueled by Wang Wangs. Thanks to the Wang Wangs, their subconsciousness freely flowed up to their conscious minds and out their mouths without any pesky inhibitions. This is how you get a true review. Here is a transcription of the review of Dunston Checks In: "Oh! I know the whole plot! It's an orangutan and his name is Dustin. Hijinx ensue. [He] ends up being a crime fighter. I think someone's trying to take money from an old woman. He teams up with a child. Dustin ends up fighting the bad guy...I think there's bananas involved...Dustin goes into one of those dumb waiters and pops out. No one believes an orangutan is there until he actually pops out." Please message or thwart @littlejohnny with every single part of this review that incorrectly restates the plot of Dunston Checks In. You will get one thousand points for each error identified.

The JoCo Cruise Analog Onboard Booking Form Fine Print

This offer is valid for an onboard reservation for JoCo Cruise 2021, made while sailing on the 2020 JoCo Cruise. It will remain available until Friday, March 13, 2020 at 4:00 p.m. (ship time), or until all onboard inventory has been sold.

Guest Eligibility

This offer is available for parties including a Primary Contact (the person who will be responsible for payment and whose name will be on the booking) who is currently onboard the 2020 JoCo Cruise. The Primary Contact must provide a name, email address, and cabin number to complete the reservation. A reservation may include up to four total guests per cabin and may include guests who are not currently onboard. Reservations must be booked into staterooms which can accommodate all guests in the booking. All additional guests do not need to be identified at the time of reservation; however, additional guests who are currently onboard may be identified on the form. All guests must be identified and must complete all requested information in the User Account System at least two weeks prior to sailing.

Available Cabins

Onboard reservation is available for a limited number of staterooms on the 2021 JoCo Cruise. To avoid conflicts with ongoing online booking, onboard stateroom options are separate from the online booking options and cannot be changed or expanded. If the onboard stateroom options sell out, additional staterooms may be available for reservation online. Similarly, staterooms not available online may be available onboard.

Payment Process

At the time of reservation, the Primary Contact may opt to pay either the minimum deposit amount ($500 per guest) or may pay the entire booking fee in full. All onboard reservations are eligible for Returning Monkey Discounts and the Early Booking Discount, as described on the JoCo Cruise 2021 Pricing page (jococruise.com/2021pricing/#discounts). Guests who opt to pay the entire fee at the time of reservation are also eligible for an additional 4% "Pay-in-Full" discount.

The Primary Contact will not be immediately charged at the time of reservation. Instead, the Primary Contact will receive a payment reminder by Tuesday, March 17, 2020. By March 24, 2020, you must make the minimum deposit on your booking or, if you opted to pay in full, you must pay the entire balance. Failure to make the appropriate payment by March 24, 2020 will result in cancellation of the reservation.

After this initial payment is made, guests will be bound by the 2021 deposit schedule and cancellation fee schedule provided at jococruise.com.

Terms and Conditions

By making this reservation, you agree to the Terms and Conditions for the 2021 JoCo Cruise. A copy of the Terms and Conditions will be provided along with your payment reminder and are also available online at jococruise.com/terms-and-conditions-2021. The Terms and Conditions incorporate any policies described in the Frequently Asked Questions also provided on the 2021 JoCo Cruise website and are subject to change. All adult guests must agree to be bound to the Terms and Conditions prior to boarding.

JoCo Cruise 2021 Onboard Pricing

The below table shows pricing for the available onboard inventory as of March 7, 2020. Note that inventory availability will change once cabins are booked onboard.

The "Onboard Rates" below include all taxes, fees and prepaid gratuities (no hidden fees!) and reflect either a $125 or a $175 per person combined discount (Early Booking + MonoMonkey, or Early Booking + MultiMonkey, depending on how many prior JoCo Cruises the primary has sailed). The Pay in Full Rate is 4% off the Onboard Rate. Required deposits must be made by March 24, 2020 for bookings to remain valid.

This grid shows the total all-in cost for the cabin (not the per-guest cost). And remember: no hidden fees*. JoCo Cruise always includes Taxes, Fees, and other charges in its prices.
